

'SERVED BY A DRAGON HAND!'

*I see the end,
served by a dragon hand!*

*I see his awful grin,
which contains the sin!
Flying around,
in hellish sound!*

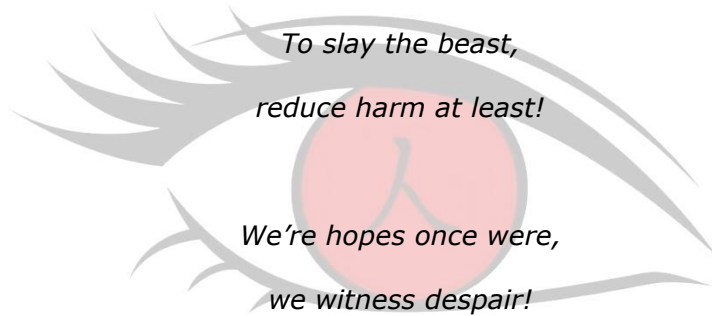

*Valiant men,
try everything they can!
Lift shield and sword,
look to keep their word!*

*To slay the beast,
reduce harm at least!*

*We're hopes once were,
we witness despair!*

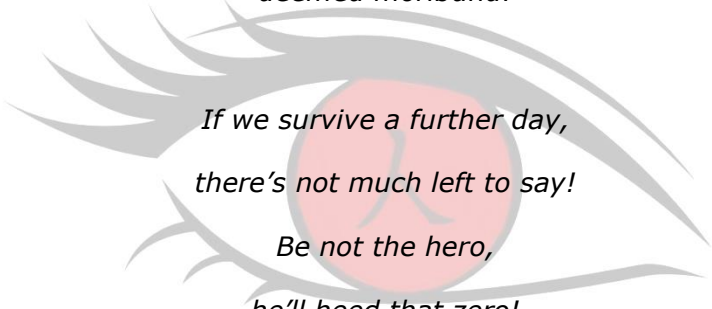

*See houses fall,
both small and tall!
Marks the first scar,
in an upcoming war!*

*Tidings untold,
counsils manifold!
What we once started,
remains unrewarded!
In boldness believed,
by folly deceived!*

*His shape too long,
his body too strong!
He makes in vain,
to fight his flame!
Instilled in his breath,
is his infinite wrath!*

*It seems unfair,
how less we did care!
We aimed for relief
and not for grief!
Our errand,
deemed moribund!*

*If we survive a further day,
there's not much left to say!
Be not the hero,
he'll heed that zero!*

*Cause you can't thwart,
what the dragon start!*

*Gather with the ones you love,
while stare to death above!
Hold firm their hand,
watch burn down your land!*

*I see the end,
served by a dragon hand!*
