

BE HAPPY

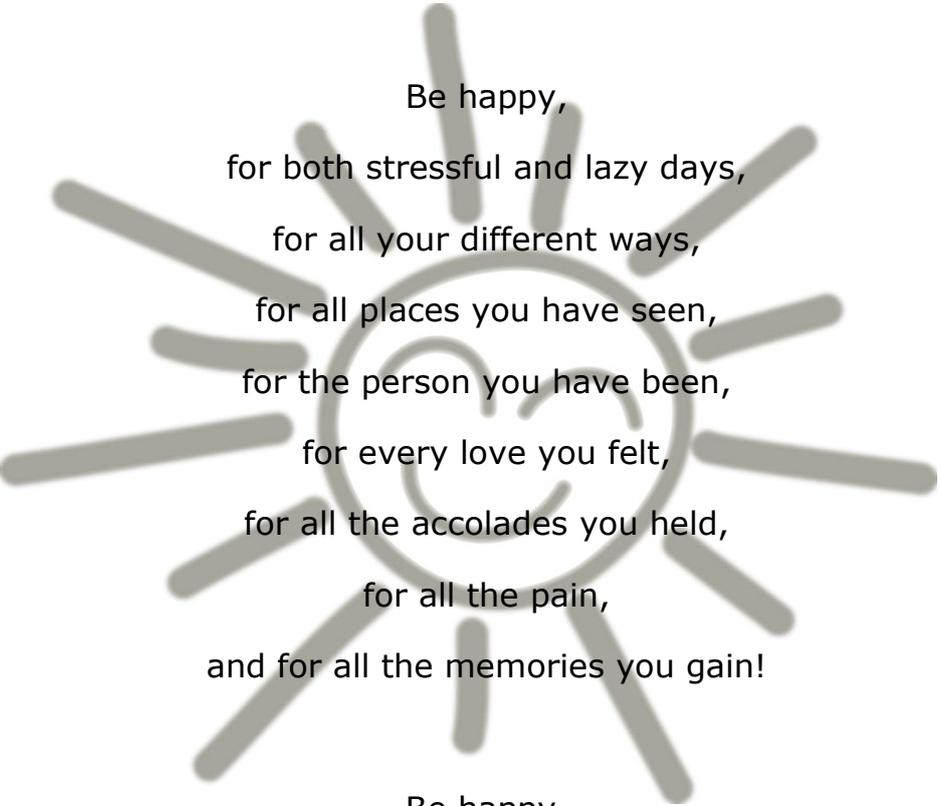

Be happy,
for every path you took,
for every hand you shook,
for every challenge you take,
for every move you make,
for every smile you get,
and to where your path has led!

Be happy,
for all you smell,
for every story you tell,
for every people you meet,
for every book you read,
for every word you speak,
and for every secret you leak!

Be happy,
for every idea,
all too bright,
for every word you write,
for all you have achieved, for all dreams you have believed,
for every road you took by foot, and for every lesson you understood!

Be happy,
for every time you opened up your eyes,
for every day you acted wise, for every laughter you had,
for all what made you glad,
for every time you worked hard,
and for every new start!

Be happy,
for both stressful and lazy days,
for all your different ways,
for all places you have seen, for the person you have been,
for every love you felt,
for all the accolades you held,
for all the pain,
and for all the memories you gain!

Be happy,
for all that consumes you,
for all you once and will do!

Be happy,
for what the future holds,
for what way unfolds!

Be happy,
for all days to come
and for every time you ain't lonesome!

Because,
life's may sometimes rough,
but it's also short enough, sometimes it ain't easy,
sometimes it ain't fair,
but life is there,
to fight and dare,
to stand and deliver,
through hard times and shiver,
to be happy,
to be glad,
about what in life you had,
if love,
if wealth,
if power,
if health,
in the end,
it doesn't matter,
whatsoever,
what matters instead,
is that you were happy and glad,
is that you took every chance,
to embrace every new day,
with open hands,
as a gift,
not all can appreciate,
until it's already too late!
