

Creativity

We all know that certain spark,
deep in the dark
of our brain,
what we're looking forward to sustain.

It's creativity that encases,
throughout all phases.

Creativity can meet,
in plenty of facets.
Whether through contemplating
or long-lasting waiting.

But sometimes rather,
the velocity do matter.
How long our brain need
to finally succeed.
With the work that difficult,
to get to a sufficient result.

It can come by sudden,
like pressing on a button.

It can go pretty wrong,
then it lasts pretty long.

It can flow,
very slow.

It can use a source,
but definitely does not emerge by force.

So the moral of the story,
don't worry!

More or less

Creativity is what we all possess!
