*Far over the Iron Mountains wide,
to foreign tides,
long forgotten sides,
will we reach out,
in hellish bout.
Revenge is
why we're gettin' out!*

*In new adventures
we have to souse,
to reach in darkness,
the lonely house.
To get advice,
prevent sacrifice.
To maintain safety
all the way!*

With the Iron Mountains all behind,

we look to mind,

the forest unkind.

Where dreams are dead,

danger ahead.

Seein' the carnage

all the way!

Encased in fire,

lays our desire.

When we behold

the mountain old.

Where sleeps the beast,

high in the east.

A war is comin'

all the way!

We have to fight for,

what we're seekin' for.

To shake off fear,

it's our year.

To hand in hand

regain our land.

This time we're comin'

all the way!
