

What do you want to be?

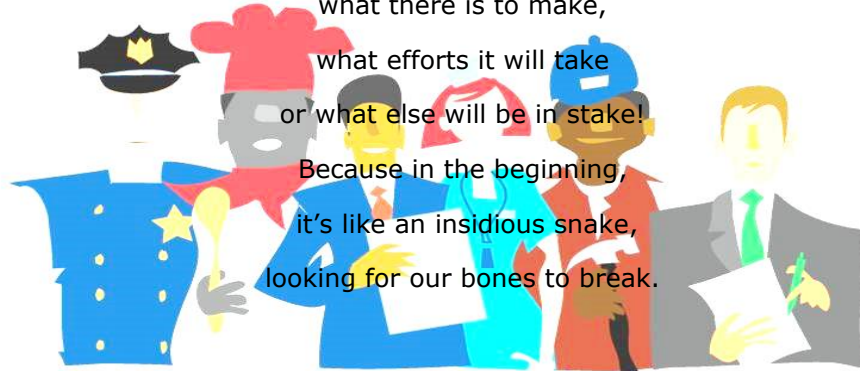

What do you want to be?
Is a difficult question, you will see!

We get confronted with that type of issue, without any certain clue.

But ever since,
we don't know,

what there is to make,
what efforts it will take or what else will be in stake!

Because in the beginning,
it's like an insidious snake, looking for our bones to break.

It's a heavy load we have to suffer underneath,
it's a miracle,

that we are still able to breath!

Because it's not an easy task to solve,
it's rather something,
we have to evolve,
ourselves out,
to learn, what this is all about and in the end, to be proud.

So people,
if you please,
start to cease,
to accuse us,
in unnecessary surplus.

Because I can say,
that one day,
we will all find our certain way!
